

Come, Been, Gone

Fill in the blanks with come, been, gone.

1. John has to the market. He will be back in a short while.

been

gone

Either could be used here

2. Have you ever to Nigeria?

been

gone

Either could be used here

3. You cannot meet him now. He has home.

been

gone

Either could be used here

4. I have to see them twice since January.

Come, Been, Gone

been

gone

Either could be used here

5. Where have you? I've been waiting for an hour.

been

gone

Either could be used here

6. 'Where is James?' 'He has to school.'

been

gone

Either could be used here

7. I have never to Europe.

been

gone

Either could be used here

Come, Been, Gone

8. Those days have long been

gone

Either could be used here

9. The boy has missing for a week.

been

gone

Either could be used here

10. Where have you all this while?

been

gone

Either could be used here

11. I haven't to the cinema for ages.

gone

been

Either could be used here

Come, Been, Gone

12. She has We can start now.

been

come

Either could be used here

Answers

John has gone to the market. He will be back in a short while.

Have you ever been to Nigeria?

You cannot meet him now. He has gone home.

I have been to see them twice since January.

Where have you been? I've been waiting for an hour.

'Where is James?' 'He has gone to school.'

I have never been to Europe.

Those days have long gone.

The boy has been missing for a week.

Where have you been all this while?

I haven't been to the cinema for ages.

She has come. We can start now.