Conjunctions Exercise

Fill in the blanks with an appropriate conjunction.

1. I asked her .................................. she could help me.

   if

   whether

   Either could be used here

2. We waited .................................. he turned up.

   until

   up to

   Either could be used here

3. ......................................... I had invited a lot of people, no one turned up.
Conjunctions Exercise

As

Though

Even as

4. I was delighted to hear ........................................... he was safe.

if

that what

5. How would people live ............................................. there was no electricity?

if

whether
Conjunctions Exercise

6. I invited them ........................................... they didn’t come.

7. You must work ................................. starve.

8. She is ....................................... rich nor influential.
Conjunctions Exercise

9. You are not better ........................................... he is.
   - as
   - than
   - then

10. ............................................. she has a good job, she does not have to depend on her parents.
   Please select 2 correct answers
   - Though
   - Now that Conjunctions Exercise

11. You should mend your ways ................................ you want to get into trouble.

if unless

whether

12. It was ................................ a pleasant morning that I went for a walk.

such so

as Conjunctions Exercise

Answers

I asked her if / whether she could help me.
We waited until he turned up.
Though I had invited a lot of people, no one turned up.
I was delighted to hear that he was safe.
How would people live if there was no electricity?
I invited them but they didn’t come.
You must work or starve.
She is neither rich nor influential.
You are not better than he is.
As / Now that she has a good job, she does not have to depend on her parents.
You should mend your ways unless you want to get into trouble.
It was such a pleasant morning that I went for a walk.