

Difference between bring, take and fetch

Certain verbs have very similar meanings that students sometimes find it difficult to use them correctly. For example, the verbs bring, take and fetch are often confused.

Differences Between Bring, Take and Fetch

Bring is used to talk about movement to the place where the speaker is at the moment of speaking.

Please bring that file to my table.

You will have to bring your own sandwiches.

Have you brought your ticket along?

Use take to talk about movements to all other places.

I don't know what to take with me when I go to London.

Fetch

To fetch something is to go to the place where it is and then bring it back to the current location.

Jack and Jill went up the hill to fetch a pail of water.

Can you fetch me a glass of water?

Fetch can also be used to talk about selling something for a price.

How much would my watch fetch?

Complete the following sentences.

1. Don't forget to these documents when you go to the bank.

take

bring

Difference between bring, take and fetch

fetch

2. I'm you to the doctor.

fetching

taking bringing

3. Can you me some onions from the market?

take

fetch

4. It's your turn to the kids to the park.

bring

take

fetch

5. The villagers often have to walk miles to water.

take

Difference between bring, take and fetch

fetch

6. Can you me that file?

take

bring

fetch

7. I my cellphone
wherever I go.

bring

take

fetch

8. I always an umbrella
when I go out.

bring

fetch

take

9. Go and that ball.

bring

Difference between bring, take and fetch

take

fetch

Answers

1. Don't forget to take these documents when you go to the bank.
2. I'm taking you to the doctor.
3. Can you fetch me some onions from the market?
4. It is your turn to take the kids to the park.
5. The villagers often have to walk miles to fetch water.
6. Can you bring me that file?
7. I take my cellphone wherever I go.
8. I always take an umbrella when I go out.
9. Go and fetch that ball.