

For, Since, From, In

The prepositions for, in, from and since can all refer to time.

Can you use them correctly?

Fill in the blanks

1. I once studied classical music about two years.

for
since
from
in

2. I am going to Switzerland the summer.

since
from
for

3. I will be in Singapore the next ten days.

since
for
from

For, Since, From, In

4. We have known each other our school days.

since

for

from

in

5. We have known each other a long time.

for

since

from

in

6. It was the worst disaster decades.

Please select 2 correct answers

in

for

from

since

For, Since, From, In

7. She has been a go-getter her earliest childhood.

for
from
since

8. now on, I am going to be punctual.

Since
From
For

9. I work dawn to dusk.

since
from
for

10. his earliest childhood, he hated cats.

From
Since
For

For, Since, From, In

11. I will be home Monday on.

since

from

for

12. the dawn of civilization, people have made wars.

From

Since

Either could be used here

Answers

1. I once studied classical music for about two years.
2. I am going to Switzerland for the summer.
3. I will be in Singapore for the next ten days.
4. We have known each other since our school days.
5. We have known each other for a long time.
6. It was the worst disaster in / for decades.
7. She has been a go-getter since her earliest childhood.
8. From now on, I am going to be punctual.
9. I work from dawn to dusk.
10. From his earliest childhood, he hated cats.
11. I will be home from Monday on.
12. From / Since the dawn of civilization, people have made wars.

For, Since, From, In