

Match up (adverbs of time)

Fill in the blanks with an appropriate time adverb.

1. I have known her a long time.

- for
- since
- from

2. I once studied the guitar three years.

- for
- since
- from

3. I have been working six o'clock, and I am getting tired.

- since
- for
- from

4. It was the worst storm ten years.

Match up (adverbs of time)

in
from since

5. I will be here three o'clock onwards.

from
for since

6. now on, I'm going to go running every day.

From Since
For

7. the dawn of civilization, people have made war.

From
In
For

Match up (adverbs of time)

8. By next Christmas, we will have been here eight years.

since
for
from

9. I think the plane is to take off.

about around

10. The President is to visit Beijing May.

in on from

Answers

I have known her for a long time.

I once studied the guitar for three years.

I have been working since six o'clock, and I am getting tired.

Match up (adverbs of time)

It was the worst storm in ten years.

I will be here from three o'clock onwards.

From now on, I'm going to go running every day.

From the dawn of civilization, people have made war.

By next Christmas, we will have been here for eight years.

I think the plane is about to take off.

The President is to visit Beijing in May.