Relative Pronouns Exercise

Fill in the blanks with an appropriate relative pronoun.

1. The people .................................................. walked in just now seem to be rich.

   who

   whom

   which

2. The girl ..................................................... answered the phone seemed rather clueless.

   who

   whom

   which

3. Where is the person ........................................ called the police?
4. I have lost the paper on which I had written her address.

5. She is the woman whom I have always wanted to marry.
Relative Pronouns Exercise

6. The woman _________________________ child had gone missing was frantic.

who's

7. I know a girl _________________________ father is an artist.

who's

© www.englishgrammar.org
Relative Pronouns Exercise

8. The man ........................................... bag was stolen complained to the police.
   - who
   - whose
   - who's

9. Who is that girl ........................................ is sitting beside James?
   - who
   - who's
   - which

10. I talked to a man ........................................ had just returned from an overseas trip.
    - who
Relative Pronouns Exercise

11. He ............................................. has nothing to lose has no worries.

12. The woman ............................................. you can see over there is my cousin.
Relative Pronouns Exercise

Answers

1. The people who walked in just now seem to be rich.

2. The girl who answered the phone seemed rather clueless.

3. Where is the person who called the police?

4. I have lost the paper on which I had written her address.

5. She is the woman whom I have always wanted to marry.

6. The woman whose child had gone missing was frantic.

7. I know a girl whose father is an artist.

8. The man whose bag was stolen complained to the police.

9. Who is that girl who is sitting beside James?

10. I talked to a man who had just returned from an overseas trip.

11. He who has nothing to lose has no worries.

12. The woman whom you can see over there is my cousin.