Relative Pronouns Exercise

Fill in the blanks.

1. People ……………………… speak a second language tend to be smarter.

who

whom

which

2. The woman ……………………… took the message was polite.

who

which

whom

3. Where is the person ……………………… asked for a drink?
Relative Pronouns Exercise

4. I can’t find the paper on ................................................... I had written her number.

5. He is the only politician .............................................. I really respect.
Relative Pronouns Exercise

6. The woman ............................................ passport had been stolen looked worried.

7. The boy .............................................. parents had died in the war now lives in foster care.
Relative Pronouns Exercise

8. Police arrested the man ……………………… had stolen their walky-talky.
   - who
   - which
   - that

9. Do you know the boy ……………………… is sitting beside Alice?
   - which
   - who
   - whom

10. I know some traders ……………………… import spices from India.
    - who
Relative Pronouns Exercise

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>whom</th>
<th>which</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

11. He ........................................... has nothing to lose has no worries.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>who</th>
<th>whom</th>
<th>which</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

12. He ......................... wears the shoes knows where it pinches.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>who</th>
<th>whom</th>
<th>which</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
Relative Pronouns Exercise

Answers

People who speak a second language tend to be smarter.
The woman who took the message was polite.
Where is the person who asked for a drink?
I can’t find the paper on which I had written her number.
He is the only politician whom I really respect.
The woman whose passport had been stolen looked worried.
The boy whose parents had died in the war now lives in foster care.
Police arrested the man who had stolen their walky-talky.
Do you know the boy who is sitting beside Alice?
I know some traders who import spices from India.
He who has nothing to lose has no worries.
12. He who wears the shoes knows where it pinches.