Since vs. For

Fill in the blanks with since or for.

1. It has been two weeks ......................... I heard anything from him.

   since

   for

2. I have been working ............................ twelve hours.

   since

   for

3. What have you been doing ........................ you left college?

   since

   for Since vs. For

4. It rained ....................... days on end.
   since
   for

5. She has been jobless ....................... she left college.
   since
   for

6. Ever ....................... he left his home, he has been living on alms.
   since
   for Since vs. For

7. The child has slept .................................. two hours.

since
for

8. The woman has been missing ................................ Monday.

since
for

9. We have been trying to fix the problem ................................ morning.

since
for

© www.englishgrammar.org
Since vs. For

10. I have been working on a new project since June.

since
for

11. I waited for hours and then I went home.

since
for

12. He has been playing tennis for two hours.

since
for Since vs. For

Answers

It has been two weeks since I heard anything from him.
I have been working for twelve hours.
What have you been doing since you left college?
It rained for days on end.
She has been jobless since she left college.
Ever since he left his home, he has been living on alms.
The child has slept for two hours.
The woman has been missing since Monday.
We have been trying to fix the problem since morning.
I have been working on a new project since June.
I waited for hours and then I went home.
He has been playing tennis for two hours.