

Fill in the blanks.

1. Have you the fee yet?

paid

paid for

Either could be used here

You pay for something that is bought.

2. Samuel my drinks.

paid

paid for

Either could be used here

You pay for something that is bought.

3. They the house but they could not find the weapon.

searched

searched for

Either could be used here

When search is used without for, it means 'look everywhere in/on'.

4. What are you in my room?

searching

searching for

Either could be used here

To search for is to look for.

5. When we the church everybody stopped talking.

entered

entered into entered at

Enter is used without a preposition when it means 'enter a place'.

6. We have just an agreement with them.

entered

entered into

Either could be used here

7. They spent the whole afternoon music and movies.

discussing

discussing over

discussing about

Discuss is used without a preposition.

8. We had a long money.

discussion

discussion about discussion of

The noun discussion is followed by the preposition about.

9. Don't money.

ask me

ask me for

Either could be used here

To ask for is to ask somebody to give something.

10. Don't her her name.

ask

ask for

Either could be used here

Ask without for means ask somebody to tell something.

11. You must not a word he says.

believe

believe in

Either could be used here

Believe is used without for when it means accept as true.

12. Do you life after death?

believe

believe in

Either could be used here

To believe in something is to believe that it exists.

PLAY AGAIN !

Answers

1. Have you paid the fee yet?
2. Samuel paid for my drinks.
3. They searched the house but they could not find the weapon.
4. What are you searching for in my room?
5. When we entered the church everybody stopped talking.
6. We have just entered into an agreement with them.
7. They spent the whole afternoon discussing music and movies.
8. We had a long discussion about money.
9. Don't ask me for money.
10. Don't ask her her name.
11. You must not believe a word he says.
12. Do you believe in life after death?